DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, "the two reference points" appears without proper antecedent because no second reference point has been defined. Additionally, the "or in two planes" makes the claims unclear because it is not connected to any of the other features of claim 1. Claim 12 is similarly indefinite, although it does positively recite "a second reference point." However, that second point is not connected with any other structure, although it help "define" the beam path, the meaning of which is unclear. In both claims 1 and 12 it is unclear what a "microscope optical system" is intended to be, and that such may refer merely to an objective as element 24 of Progler et al. In claim 3, it is unclear if the "planes" are those of claim 1 or not. In claim 5, it is unclear how a "point" can be a pupil (claim 20 is similarly indefinite). It is unclear what claim 27 is intended to add to claim 26.

3. An action with regard to the prior art will be deferred until the claims are clarified. It is also noted that a restriction requirement may be necessary when the claims are clarified with regard to (a) points and planes and (b) different types of light sources alignment movements.
4. The patents to Progler et al, Steen, and Mizuta are cited to show lighting systems using objectives, including microscope objectives that require alignment.
